A Restaurant that I Visited

Yung Kee Restaurant is one of the popular restaurants in Central. I went there with my family for dinner last Sunday.

Yung Kee Restaurant is famous for roast goose. We ordered preserved eggs and pickled ginger as starters. The food was sweet and sour. We ordered roast goose, poached fresh shrimps (with shells) and Cantonese style fried rice, too. They were delicious and fresh. We finished our dinner with some desserts. We had mini egg custard and mango pudding. They tasted sweet and wonderful. In short, the food we ordered was delicious.

We were surprised when we received the bill. The price of the meal was quite expensive. We paid $2200 for 4 people.

I think we will not visit this restaurant again. Because although the food is delicious, it is too expensive. However, the place is clean and beautifully decorated. Moreover, the waiters are polite and helpful, so, I would highly recommend the restaurant to my family and friends.
